WHY I GIVE

HELPING FROM AFAR

As an international student originally from India, Noelle DeSouza '04 now resides in Toronto, Canada, working as a staffing manager at Ajilon Finance. She says "It's a sales/networking role in which I'm doing pretty well, due in part to R-MWC because I learned to ask the questions to broaden my scope and push my boundaries, to network with finesse, and not to be afraid of putting in hard work in order to reap the rewards."

Noelle DeSouza '04

Because of her distance from campus, she notes that it is "sometimes difficult to continue to feel a part of the College we called home for four years. However, I remind myself that it's my duty to pay back... (for) that unforgettable experience at RMWC." In fact, Noelle gave her first gift as an alumna in June 2007.

Her heart is with the College and she comments, "I try to do what I can. I only wish I could devote more energy and time to the College, to its current and prospective students, and eventually become an international voice in the Alumnae Association as well."
