We would like to acknowledge the special efforts of the members of the Class of 1958 who conducted an auction during Reunion, the proceeds of which were added to their Class Gift. Pat Parrish Harris coordinated the donation of items to be auctioned, and Antonia Scott Day acted as auctioneer. Many members of the Class of 1958 purchased items, along with members of other classes in Reunion. Thanks to all who helped raise the auction total of $8,480.

SENIOR CLASS CAMPAIGN 2008

While the Class of 2008 conducted no official Senior Class Campaign because of the difficult year of transition for many of its members, it was heartening to have 12 of the Class pledge to make gifts ranging in amounts from $20 to $200 in honor of friends, family members, faculty, and staff. Their gifts will be due June 30, 2009, and as the pledges are fulfilled, each honoree will receive notification of the gift made in their name. The College gratefully acknowledges the contribution to the life of the College by the individuals who inspired and supported these seniors. Members of the Class of 2008 pledged a total of $1,070 to the Annual Fund. In addition to honoring their past, these gifts signal their interest in and commitment to the future of the College. These young philanthropists understand that they, along with their many alumnae sisters, have the power to help provide similar experiences for generations of students to come.

WHY I GIVE

THE INVESTMENT OF GIVING

Living in Vietnam, Lien Thuy Nguyen '07 is working as an investment analyst for IDG Ventures Vietnam, a technology venture capital fund. She explains, "This means that our company makes high-risk but potentially high-return investments in start-up technology firms, hoping one of them will become the next Google or Yahoo of Vietnam." She is proud to be a part of IDG Ventures and to be participating in changes in Vietnam that are both promising and revolutionary.

"Without any background and experience in finance or management, I secured this job owing largely to the liberal arts education R-MWC gave me, which allowed me to show my employer three very basic things which set the foundation for any personal development: I could learn anything, and learn fast; I could communicate and write well; and I could think critically."

Lien equates giving to Randolph College with a reasonable and valuable investment. "I think that giving back to the College is actually a relatively low-risk but high-return investment since the quality of the education can almost guarantee that its graduates will yield great success and maximize the return on investment for alums and other generous donors alike."
