WHY I GIVE

PARENTS WHO CONTINUE TO CARE

Tom and Marcia Fulham, parents of Elizabeth '08, were co-chairs of the Family Advisory Council in 2007-08. Active supporters of the College, they reminisce that when their daughter began at R-MWC, "graduation seemed so far away that we couldn't even contemplate it. Last May we were bursting with excitement – and most of all, with pride. Dedicated faculty, exceptionally supportive administrators, encouraging tutors, and amazing classmates have engendered a belief that Randolph students can do anything."

In fact, Elizabeth is far from home, teaching English in Prague. She also remains connected to the College, and has made her first gift as an alumna to support the Casey Alumnae House Endowment Fund.

Tom and Marcia, like so many parents, have sacrificed mightily to give their child an education.

They recognize what a substantial investment this is. But they are adamant in their belief that "just as our daughters and sons are benefitting from the generosity of earlier generations, it's our turn to make it possible for students and faculty to continue to thrive. By giving to Randolph College, we can all help shape its future."

Marcia, Elizabeth '08, and Tom Fulham

WHY I GIVE

A COUPLE WITH GENEROUS SPIRITS

Rick and Tina Barnes have embraced the College and the greater Lynchburg community. They arrived 27 years ago when Rick was hired to teach psychology. He is now professor of psychology and environmental studies. Tina joined the College seven years ago and serves as coordinator of disability services and learning strategies. Their many volunteer activities in the Lynchburg community include Rick's participation on the Lynchburg Planning Commission and Tina's position as President of the Board of Camp CHILD (Children Having Identified Learning Disabilities).

When they first arrived on campus, the couple was struck by the feeling of mutual support within the College community. Rick notes, "There has always been a more balanced perspective on career and life. It's family friendly." Intellectually, he is at home in an environment that allows him to be a generalist, to develop lots of different interests and to share broader perspectives.

A few years ago, Tina and Rick decided that it was time to "give back" and to show tangible support for the College in its coeducational decision. They "wanted to contribute something positive." They began by giving a one-time Annual Fund gift to the College in honor of one of Rick's favorite cousins, Eugenia Summers Phillips '49.

The Phillips family has a long relationship with the College. Eugenia's daughter, Ellen, studied at R-MWC for one year, but her two grandchildren, Rebecca and Miranda, graduated in 2000 and 2007 respectively. Eugenia's son, John S. Phillips, married Nancy Williams '87. Randolph-Macon Woman's College has been a family affair!

Rick and Tina's one-time gift was renewed several times annually and the couple is now supporting the College through monthly payroll deduction. This generosity to the College in honor of Rick's cousin, Eugenia Summers Phillips, is a fitting tribute both to the College and to his beloved family.
