Dear Alumnae and Alumni,

We'd like your help welcoming new applicants to Randolph College.

The College will send an e-mail from you to the new applicant. Your e-mail will be a friendly welcome to the Randolph family and a demonstration of the outcomes our alumnae and alumni have experienced.

The most frequent question asked by prospective students and parents is “Will attending Randolph lead to a career after graduation?” Sharing your academic and professional success will answer that question in a powerful way.

Here is an example of the e-mail (if you dual majored, both will be listed):

Dear <name>.

Welcome to Randolph College, and my best wishes to you for a successful completion of the application process.

Randolph prepares students for successful and abundant lives. I graduated from the College in <year> and majored in <major1>. I am a <title> with <organization> in <organization location>. There are countless alumnae and alumni who have experienced similar success, and I hope that you will decide to join our ranks.

I look forward to hearing that you're a WildCat in the Class of 2023!

*Sincerely,
<your name>*

Sending an “e-welcome” to a new applicant is something that will set Randolph College apart from its peers. If you are willing to lend your success to this important initiative, register online as a member of The 1893 Group, or e-mail 1893group@randolphcollege.edu for the link. Thank you for your help!

Best,

Mike Quinn
