

“Bringing the Past into the Light: Modernizing the Ancient Archaeology Collection at Randolph College”

Sara Primm, '20; Andrea W. Campbell, Associate Professor, Art History

This project has four main elements: to physically move and safely re-store the archaeology collection; to modernize and make accessible the existing catalogue information, beginning to shift the information into Proficio, an online database recently acquired by the college; to complete cataloguing the glass collection; to research the glass collection.
